

Trevor Smith, Hartlepool Borough Council, Performance & Information Manager (Adults)

Trevor started working for Hartlepool council in 1987 as an IT trainer. In 1997 he got the opportunity to move into social services, with a primary focus on implementing and developing IT systems and management information.

This role developed over the next 20 years to include increased focus on information governance and security, business intelligence, employee protection, business continuity and enhancing performance systems.

